Workshop Leader

I grew up in South Africa under Apartheid and all of my family were appalled by the racial discrimination we witnessed on a daily basis.

I have been living in Sydney since 1981 and have had a career firstly as a litigation solicitor, including family law, and then as an operational manager, most recently in a conciliation and arbitration tribunal.

Communication, client service, and conflict resolution were central to my work, and my various roles involved training and group facilitation which I enjoyed a great deal.

I am married to Debbie who is the child of Holocaust survivors. We have two daughters and I also have a son.

Debbie's late father, Jack Greene, and his late brother, Bob Grunschlag, survived through the actions of a Righteous upstander.

Both Jack and Bob contributed significantly to Courage to Care in its earlier years and I feel a sense of privilege to be able to participate as well.
